Preface

Within is the fourth and final installment of the Kiazerian Journals, A Journey into the Spiritual Quest of Who We Are.

Herein Kiazer continues delving ever deeper, into the unknown, but also known. He continues removing the veils of illusion placed upon us around twelve thousand years ago. Understand this was done to keep us from learning the truth about ourselves.

I, the author, can only hope, that given all the knowledge Kiazer has shared with you throughout this entire series, you all will gain a much wider view of life and learn about who you really are. I hope that the insights that I have shared with you will help you in your reawakening, and I hope it helps to remove the veils of illusions. However, it is all up to each one of you to choose how you look at and use this knowledge of life that I am passing on to you throughout this series.

We all have to take this road in learning about who we are at some point in our lives. We all have those same questions about what life is all about and what it all means.

Finally, I hope that I had helped all of you to start your journey, in one form or another.

Chapter 1

The Creation of the Veils of Illusions

*The human species really has no idea who they really are,
since their consciousness has been asleep
for the past twelve thousand years!*

It is time to, remove the veils of illusions that we have all been living within!

Kiazer talks to a group of people, he says “I have already shown you examples on how these beings have gone about creating fear and control. Now do you see the purpose for the veils that were created and placed upon you, for one reason and one reason alone?

That reason was that these beings which had evolved before us thought they needed to create these veils of illusion to keep other beings from evolving in the knowledge of life. That knowledge is learning who we are as a spiritual being and learning what we are capable of becoming, through this knowledge of life. So these older beings created stories to get the younger generation to believe in a certain way, which would keep us from asking and wondering of who we are in our life. So these beings created these stories which consist of telling the younger generations that they need to believe in a certain way based on this religious structure. This belief has been passed down from generation to generation with the fear of a god and that we all will be judged at the end of our life, based on how we lived our life based on this belief towards these so-called religions with these so-called gods.”

As Kiazar walked around the group he mentions that “for some of those older beings of the past they did not want the younger generations evolving behind them, because some of these beings wanted to be in control of other beings/other civilizations that have not yet evolved like them. These stories are told repeatedly. In addition, no one can bring himself or herself to question the truth of these stories. This is mainly because most of the people in this day in age still live in fear of these beings that were playing these roles of these so-called gods thousands of years ago. Which I will remind all of you again that for the past six thousand years and as of now, no one has seen these so-called gods that people of today thought existed well over two thousand years ago. You will think at this day in age as this new millennium starts that people would have caught on by now, hearing the same stories repetitively and not witnessing a single god worldwide. You always hear people saying, “God says I must believe and act this way, or else.” However, if you ask people did they see a god standing next to them when “he said” you must believe this way. People will say no, there was nobody next to me, but I heard a voice that told me that I must believe this way.”

Kiazer said with sincerity and a louder voice, “Well if I heard a voice I would not call it god that’s for sure. Even if this voice told me that he was god, I would ask him to prove it, because I know that all beings evolve at different times than others. It still does not make that being more of a god, than we as beings ourselves are.”

The stories of these gods that were told well over ten thousand years ago still bring fear into people of today. This keeps the people from questioning the stories that they have heard that have been passed down through the ages. As long as you fear to look and question these stories, the longer it will be before you realize who you are. In addition, this will add to the time that you let these unseen so-called gods rule over your life with fear.

These stories were created as a veil to create the confusion which kept everyone at a stagnant evolution. People will continue telling these stories, of fear of these gods coming to judge them based on their religious beliefs, which were passed down. And these stories do change, with every time they are told. It was designed that way to keep all people confused in life and to bring the fear so they would not ask and wonder what life is about.

What a terrible way to live your life, and a controlled life at that point!

Why would anyone consider living a life under these conditions? This way of life takes away your life as the spiritual being that you are.

Why surrender your essence/your energy of life, to those beings? All they want is to control you and they are not even a god!

I have shown a lot to you through the previous three books. Some of these stories, of some of these beings, on their ways of controlling and bringing fear are to keep all of you from learning of the truth.

I am going to give you two more short examples of those stories of how these beings go about controlling you with these veils.

The first one is based on those Star Wars movies with the use of the Force – positive and negative energies. You have a being that is drawn to the negative energy and they use it as a way to control other beings in thinking since their power is stronger, (since it is of negativity). These beings go about making any civilization on any planet think that they have the power to destroy them if those civilizations do not obey this particular being. This being is of negative energy and creates fear to control a civilization into believing in this manner, so the civilizations go about obeying this being or they will be destroyed.

The second is from the stories of the movie Stargate and the TV series Stargate SG1 and their new series Stargate Atlantis. You have a being that had evolved to a point where it needs a host to continue to survive. This being is of a serpent – (snake), which needs a host – a human body or a humanoid body, so this being can continue on living for several hundreds of years or longer.

Now we have the mergence of two beings in one body. This evolved serpent being takes control of the body which it merged with, then they go about creating fear by the means of using this body to make other civilizations obey this being and make these civilizations think that this being is their gods.

Then you have civilizations fearing this being that is taking on this role of a god. Now you have these civilization fearing to question and afraid to learn of the truth. Then this being tells these civilizations that they need to believe this way and do not question their god, or they will be punished.

This all sounds too familiar to what is going on, on this planet with all the religions of these so-called beings that are playing these roles of gods and along with the governments, they all are creating this fear. These veils which were created, worked so well that you lived your entire life in fear of these stories of gods coming to Terra and judging you, if you went against these gods belief systems. For the past several thousands of years these veils worked so well that you forgot who you are.

With this insight you will understand how these beings are controlling you. You are allowing them to do so through your fears, and all these stories that you continue telling time after time.

How much longer are these stories of fear going to continue in your life?

Most of everyone today has lived their life by these stories. They only know about these stories because of their strong religious belief, which goes about telling them do not look at any other beliefs. In addition, their religions tell them do not question what is being told to you by their religions. People are also told that this is the only way of living your life and that there is no other way.

But there are a few people that know that there is more to life than what we are being told. We know this to be because we are not allowing ourselves to be controlled.

The old way of living is not needed any longer for us. We have lived this way far too long. Some people had that spark – a light within them that started that awakening and they realized these illusions were controlling them. Soon after they began to remove these veils, it started the reawakening of their spiritual self. They started this journey of a spiritual quest to learn who they were.

All these religious figures are not taking this lightly, because they are loosing their control over us. Which means that we are waking up and removing these veils of illusions and we are learning of this knowledge of life that we are part of, which they spent their entire life suppressing. As you begin to shed these veils, you will begin to see what the religions did not want you to see and to know the truth on what life is.

Breaking away

As you start your quest into your spiritual journey, you will begin to see how you were controlled by these stories of fear, which kept you stagnant from learning of the truth. You will be free to ask questions and to piece your search together on what life is really about, and you will learn about the many aspects that life has waiting for you.

As you begin this breaking away from this old way of life, it will be very confusing, since it is all new to you, in a way of speaking. You will find those stories which will conflict with the old way that you were brought up to believe in on how life was and how it is supposed to be as. There is a lot of knowledge out there, about life and who we are. You are not going to piece it all together, in a year or two, three. At least you have your foot in the doorway and you have the door open, to learn what has been kept from you all these years. Just reading this series shows you just that, this is your first step in that reawakening.

As you go down this road of learning about these aspects of life, it will feel as if this knowledge of life just keeps on flowing in like the faucet on a sink, turned on full and you cannot turn it off. It just keeps coming and coming.

Yeah, it will slow down enough so you can assess what has been presented to you. As soon as you have pieced together what you have just learned, it will start again with more knowledge about life. And once again you will have the time to assess what you had just learned.

You will start beginning to see how all the knowledge you were given falls into place, the things you were told to avoid so that you would not learn. I have brought some of this to light throughout this series. I have only presented a fraction of the pieces that are the main important part of my search to show where I am coming from with my knowledge of what is missing within this vast life of ours. I have only presented a very small tip of an iceberg, so to say, about the knowledge of life, beyond what we are brought up to believe in.

As you continue to delve ever deeper into the ancient myths of ancient forgotten knowledge of the ancient civilizations, you will also learn why those stories were changed from age to age. Now you can see why this confusion was brought about with today's belief systems.

Now you begin to piece together what the religious figures know and tried to keep from you. Now you begin to realize the truth, behind the creation of these veils of illusions. As you learn more of the truth, you will find yourself not looking at religions in the same way, if you even look at them at all.

You are learning the truth of what life is about now. As you continue to unravel each story that you find which is older than the previous story, you will begin to see why these older stories were changed to the way they are today. These stories were changed to bring confusion about in life, to keep people from wanting to learn the knowledge of life, so people would not learn about the true aspects of their spiritual self and of who they are.

However, this is what you have done when you went out and started reawakening the knowledge of who you are.

This is what the religions were afraid might happen. They knew if you went out and learned the truth of who you are, that they would no longer have control of your life and that these beings had failed their so-called mission (keeping you from learning of the truth). As you continue down that path of spiritual reawakening, you become that spiritual being that we all are. And as long as you continue on this path these beings that want control over you will no longer have that control. For the past three thousand years all this knowledge about life was put aside by the religious figures. It is now being brought to light for all to learn the truth on what life is all about.

Claim the truth about what life is about, it is your right as the spiritual being you are.

Chapter 2

The Start of A New Age

Terra is about ready to make her quantum leap around 2020, where one Terrain world will stay in the 3rd dimension for those that need more time to make that transition of letting go of the old ways of life. The people of the 2nd world become the conscious beings and evolve from the original Terrain world and they will take that quantum leap into becoming that fully awakened conscious being.

Well I can say this, as I am writing now, which is December 2004, this particular event of having two Terrain worlds will not come to be as thought of in the past, this is due to the thought that this event of having two Terrain Worlds is no longer needed to be manifested.

Oh, we will have our quantum leap of consciousness!

For those that chose not to evolve spiritually, will leave Terra, for those that want war and to bring about war against other beings, they will not be part of Terra and they will be removed in one form or another.

The reason for the thought of having two Terra's in the past was mainly due to all the thought of negativity that most of the beings on your planet were creating within themselves and outside of themselves about life.

Since 1990 some people have been changing their thoughts of what is created around them. Plus the older generation of people of this negative thought of fear, war and destruction, have been leaving this planet. A new generation is being born, and these people are realizing its time for peace, a union is needed between all beings that are in existence on earth and amongst the universes.

After this transition is complete and we enter into our new age, you will feel as if the planet has become larger, but in fact the population will have dramatically been reduced to those that wish to evolve spiritually and peacefully and to become fully awakened conscious beings.

Let's hope that our past age of existence does not return to us at any time. Let's hope that we have learned our mistakes of the past eons.

Many people had come to fear this so called end times as told within the bibles.

Why so much fear towards an end?

It is all that control from all those belief systems that had created all that fear towards other beings of the past, the present, and the future. The belief systems created a negative view of life within
